Description

Finally, a finca where you will find all the peace that you normally do not find so close to civilization. Good connections to all global delights and when you're tired of it, quickly return to paradise. The panoramic surroundings on the way to the finca already lift a corner of the veil and create expectations. The finca appears in sight against a slightly sloping mountain slope. Driveway, parking space, garage, well confirms that it really exists. The spacious naya is the first thing you encounter, and it is immediately clear where family life is celebrated. Once inside, the living room, with its fireplace, is next to the open-plan dining room, and a large window makes everything feel light and pleasant. The adjacent separate kitchens with tables and chairs tempt you to prepare meals together. An elegant staircase leads up to a light intermediate space with three bedrooms, all of which are generously sized. The large bathroom is accessible from several sides and is for the whole family. The ideal sun position ensures that the complete house feels warm and pleasant. The rustic characteristics are well expressed without coming across as heavy. The large outdoor kitchen is located in the evening sun side with access to the naya, and is simply and often used for socializing. Don't you think this finca is worth a visit? Let us know when we're going to watch.
